Webb was authorized to move the equipment to North Central on May 15 from Sellers, Kiln, Dedeaux and Lecroun Schools which he thinks will be necessary, including the best piano for commencement exercises there. The board received a petition from Sellers residents asking to use the vacated school there for a community center.

Murphy moved to accept three change orders and final estimate for the school with payment to be made from state funds as soon as that money is received. A sales tax item on one change order was deleted before approval when Phillips noted that the school system is a political subdivision of the state and does not pay sales taxes. The attorney also raised an eyebrow over a 20 per cent charge, amounting to a service fee, shown on one change order.

Hospital Gets Go Ahead from U.S.

The federal government Wednesday gave the green light to proceed with Hancock County's new half million dollar hospital.

Sam L. Favre Jr., attorney for the county board of supervisors, said he was informed by the Mississippi Commission on Hospital Care that the U. S. Public Health Service had approved the project and authorized the board to sign the construction contract and issue the necessary work orders.

Perrillet and Rickey Construction Co. of New Orleans submitted the successful bid of $471,900, including $4,600 in deductible alternates to the board at its second advertising of the project on April 28.

Supervisors have approved a $75,000 bond issue to be repaid with funds from the county hospital maintenance allocation of three mills annually to supply the additional funds for the Hill-Burton Act hospital, originally estimated to cost $386,400.

Other bids came from:

C. W. Ruckstuhl, New Orleans, total construction, $497,476, general construction only, $277,555, Roy Anderson Jr., Gulfport, total construction, $495,724; general construction only, $278,474.

SCHOOL CHECK--Mrs. Jacqueline Ford, representative of the leading department of First National bank of Memphis, Tenn., gives a check for $185,000 to City Commissioner J. Cyril Glover and City Attorney Dan M. Russell Jr. Monday at Memphis. The company bought the bonds, which were approved by voters last Dec. 16, 1958 election, for a $240,000 school expansion program. Glover said word is expected today from Jackson concerning an expected allottment of $55,000 from the state Educational Finance Commission.

Road Work Will Start Soon in Beat 5

Two road improvement projects, including the county's first state aid road, will be underway very soon in District 5, the board of supervisors was told Monday.

Moving of fences on Lower Bay Road, prior to beginning of construction of a 6.5 mile road between Lower Bay Road and U.S. 90 will begin this week, Supervisor R. G. Hubbard Jr. said. With all easements gained, only a work order from the state delays beginning of the road. This is expected within two weeks.

Another project scheduled to start soon is blacktopping about one mile of Washington Street between Old Spanish Trail and U.S. 90. Hubbard said the rest of the road would be blacktopped with money saved after completion of the state aid road project. He explained that surplus funds from construction would revert to the district for use on other road work there.

Also on the road construction front a middle bid of $1,843 from Southern Equipment Sales Inc. of Jackson was accepted as the lowest and best figure for a new double drum sheep foot roller. Other bids were $1,975 by Aldridge Harbour Equipment Co., and $1,799 by Allied Equipment Co. both of Jackson. The supervisors agreed that the successful bid was closer to required specifications.

There will be readvertisement for a tailgate spreader. Originally the board advertised for four small spreader boxes and later decided the large tailgate spreader was more economical.

Monday's bids included one from Aldridge Harbour Equipment Company, Inc., of Jackson for four spreader boxes at $216.50 each and one from Southern Equipment Sales Inc. for a tailgate spreader at $1,210. Addition of an agitator would cost $120 on the latter bid.

Attorney Joseph Benvenutti appeared as a representative of Hancock County Blood Bank to ask the supervisors if they had heard any complaints regarding Blood Bank operation or disbursement of funds.

Interrupting a board discussion of equipment bids, Benvenutti informed the supervisors of his presence and said he would like a board audience. The supervisors agreed to hear him immediately and Benvenutti asked Clerk of Courts A. C. Mitchell to have someone from his office take notes on his talk and the board's answers.

First Benvenutti told of the several civic and government organizations backing the local blood bank and noted that a $200 donation had been made by the supervisors in September 1957.

Then he asked the supervisors as a group and individually if they had heard complaints pertaining to blood bank service.

Supervisors Johnson Shaw and Charles Russ agreed with Hubbard's observations that the blood bank was a worthy organization and that they had heard no objections in regard to its service.

Before leaving the board room Benvenutti asked Mitchell for a receipt for the 1957 county donation and displayed it to the supervisors.

"We now have over $130 in funds," he added. "Our records are open to anybody."

The Sea Coast Echo was successful bidder for publication of board minutes at a rate of $45 a month for two years.

Rep. Walter James Phillips asked to have Hancock County Air Strip blacktopped. The project is under consideration, Supervisor Hubbard said, but because of the expense involved, could not be undertaken immediately.

Phillips said pilot friends of his, especially those using twin-engine planes, had asked for the runway improvement.

Tom L. Ketchings Company of Natchez, Miss. was successful bidder at $670 for printing of 1,725 realty tax receipts.

Clerk Mitchell was authorized to notify the State Supreme Court that the supervisors would not be responsible for cost of sending a transcript of proceedings so far in the eight-year-old Chancery Court case, Wainwright vs. Hancock County Board of Supervisors.

The case involves a group of people moved by board order in 1951 from District 4 to District 5. The group alleges that the redistricting was invalid and are asking to be placed back in District 4.

Board Attorney Sam L. Favre Jr. said that the Supreme Court actually was involved in what is called an interlocutory appeal to settle the principals of law involved. Chancery Judge William Hewes during the last term of court overruled the demurrers and ordered the case tried on its merits. He added that the board couldn't possibly promise to pay any case costs until completion of the case since the loser in such a case is responsible for court costs.

Mitchell said he would not send the transcript since he might well have finally to carry the bill himself.

Gardening Show Slated

Gardening members of Hancock County 4-H clubs will display their products in a vegetable and flower show Wednesday in the Agricultural Center Building, said Mrs. Reuben Gray, general chairman.

Judging of the vegetables, fruits and flowers will be from 10:30 to noon and the show will be opened to the public from 12:30 to 4 p.m. Awards will be presented between 1:30 and 2 p.m.

Although club members may exhibit as many as 15 different vegetables an attempt should be made, Mrs. Gray said, to show one each of a leafy, pod, fleshy root and tuber or bulb vegetable. She reminded members to be sure that the correct amount of vegetables is in each plate.

Two classes, adult open and 4-H open, will be included in both the vegetable and flower division.

Other committee members are co-chairman, Mrs. Allie LaFrance; advertising, Mrs. L. Sauer, Mrs. Phillip Hayes, Mrs. J. D. Jones Jr. and Mrs. Adron Pouncey; arrangements, Mrs. J. P. Rousseau, Mrs. Hugh Miller, Mrs. B. Martin, Mrs. T. P. Clapp and Mrs. A. H. Gregory; registration, Mrs. Louis Moreau, Mrs. C. E. Weigel, Mrs. H. Burleigh and Mrs. H. Stiller, awards, Mrs. W. P. The petition of Clermont Harbor Water Works for an adjustment in rates, effective May 1, has been set for hearing at 10 a.m. May 22 before the Public Service Commission in Jackson. The board docketed the protested case at its regular meeting Tuesday. Community consumers are expected to meet at 8 p.m Saturday to complete their opposition plans.

Mississippi Legion Wins Parade Honors

The Mississippi American Legion will lead the greatest of all parades at the Legion's national convention in Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 24, Lucien Kidd of the Clement Bontemps Post reported on his return from a meeting of the national awards, trophies and ceremonies committee of which he is vice chairman.

Announcement was made at national headquarters in Indianapolis, Ind., listing the winners of the first five parade positions with Mississippi at 118 per cent of its four-year average. South Dakota was second with 105 per cent, New Mexico third with 104.51, Louisiana fourth with 104.17 and Alaska fifth with 102.

Mary Ann Mobley, Mississippi's own Miss America, will lead the State's delegation as it leads this gigantic parade up Nicollet Avenue in Minneapolis.

Plans are already being made for several bands and floats to form a caravan to take through the country with frequent stops being made along the way for concerts and publicity purposes.

Industrial Group Pushes Site on Webb

Meetings this month are planned by the Hancock County Industrial Committee with representatives of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company at Louisville, Ky. and United Gas Company at Jackson on development for industrial purposes of 10 acres of L and N right-of-way on Webb Ave., reports committee chairman A. G. Dantagnan.

The pipeline firm will be involved in laying of gas pipelines to the property, Dantagnan said. A committee meeting last week was counted a productive one despite the fact A and I board director Henry Maddox of Jackson, scheduled to attend, could not be here

District 5 Supervisor R. G. Hubbard Jr. told the committee that the county was in "good shape" financially, and that he and the other four supervisors were ready and willing to approve floating a bond issue to raise a plant for a good prospective industry. The plant would be raised for the industry on a lease basis, Hubbard said.

A labor potential questionnaire will be ready for distribution throughout the county in two weeks, Dantagnan said. Besides checking the labor supply in the county, it will ask for mention of potential laborers who have moved from Hancock County to work elsewhere.

"Many persons originally from Hancock County have moved all over the country to work and live," Dantagnan said, "and many of them would be happy to return to Hancock County if the right job were made available to them."

Dantagnan also noted that an L and N representative told him that the railroad was considering improvement of passenger service, especially on the commuter trains, which must continue operating between Pass Christian and New Orleans at least one year, under last week's Interstate Commerce Commission ruling. This would be another possible inducement to New Orleans workers who would become Hancock County consumers if they moved here, he noted.

Delay Gas Rate Plea

The Federal Power Commission has postponed for six months any consideration of United Gas Pipe Line Corp.'s petition for an increase in wholesale rates, City Commissioner of Public Utilities J. Cyril Glover was notified this week.

No date has been set for the new hearing but all protesting parties will be notified in time to appear, Glover said he was told.

Bay St. Louis as well as Waveland has been faced with the likelihood of having to raise its retail prices to customers should United Gas' latest plan to hike its rates be approved.

Improvements To Pier Voted For Waveland

Waveland's Coleman Avenue municipal pier is due for repair and enlargement. Town Council on Tuesday night authorized replacement of bad planking and guard rails and construction of a Gulf-end platform about 12 feet by 16 feet with steps at the end leading to the water. Unless cost is too great a 30 x 5 foot extension from the steps will also be constructed.

Mayor Garfield Ladner was also authorized to purchase up to 100 cubic yards of shells at $3.75 per cubic yard delivered and spread.

Present besides the Mayor were Aldermen Dominick Sonier, Albert Grass and William Ruhr, Secretary C. O. Dufour, Town Marshall Fred Bourgeois and Town Attorney Dan M. Russell Jr. Alderman Anthony Bourgeois was absent due to illness.

Council hiked building permit fees effective June 1 and appointed Michael Carrick inspector to collect the fees, his salary based on 50 cents per permit issued. Although the fee from June 1, 1957, through May 30, 1959, remains a flat $2.50, Carrick was directed to enforce collection from all who without permits started new construction or improvements valued over $50 in this period.

The new rates are: up to $50, no permit required; for the first $1,000 or any part over $50 thereof, $2.50; and for each additional $1,000 or part thereof, $1 with a maximum of $10.50.

Purchase of rainsuits, caps and boots for five regular town employes was authorized on the motion of Sonier and employment of Mrs. Mary Moran to assist in the town water and gas office was approved.

Council instructed the secretary not to pay any bills unless based on a requisition or signed by a regular town employe. The question arose because in haste some town employe had failed to sign for merchandise.

First action of the evening was adoption of a resolution protesting an increase in wholesale prices to Waveland of natural gas by United Gas Pipe Line Transmission Corporation.

Secretary Dufour was instructed to ask Enoch Kennedy, county engineer, to meet with council at 10 a.m., May 12, or an early date. He was also directed to arrange for a veterinarian to come to Waveland to give rabies shots to dogs, in anticipation of some ordinance dealing with stray dogs.

The financial reports of the secretary and the bills on file were unanimously approved, except in the instance of the April pay of Town Marshall Fred Bourgeois to which Alderman Grass excepted on the grounds the marshall had not carried out the requirement, made in January, that he be present in his office, unless out for official business, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Council recessed until 10 a.m., May 12, when bids on a new truck will be opened

Hancock County's Newest

Better physical facilities and more efficient use of teachers are among the claimed advantages of consolidated county schools. Experiences in other areas have consistently indicated that these claims are justified, and that any inconveniences are minor in relation to the improved education provided the students.

Hancock County now has a consolidated school, North Central High. While it may take two or three years to complete the merging of students and faculties from four schools, this paper believes the people of Hancock County will find that the school board decided wisely.

For those who did not visit the school when it held open house last month, another opportunity will be presented on May 17 when vesper services for the seniors will be held at North Central High. Hancock County's newest school is well worth a visit.

About The Blood Bank

In the editorial last week entitled "Thanks, Mr. Damborino" this editor did not intend any criticism of the Hancock County Blood Bank in the operational aspects of providing needed whole blood to the residents of Hancock County. The editor was criticizing the handling of news matter by officials of the blood bank.

He has little personal knowledge of the blood bank's operation, but the comments he has heard, and there have been several, have been 100 per cent complimentary of this phase. It must be a superior organization or have superior support or both. This explanation is due the organization and its active supporters because of the last sentence in that editorial which read "Let's go back to the Red Cross blood bank" and which many took to mean criticism of the blood bank's overall operation.

The rest of the editorial is accurate and stands, though much of its point apparently no longer applies. Mr. Joe Benveditti, speaking for the local blood bank, on Monday told the board of supervisors that the records of the Hancock County Blood Bank are open to anyone.

Watch For These

Within recent weeks two nationally prominent men have been in the news because of cancer--Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, now ex-secretary, and Mr. Arthur Godfrey. Apparently Mr. Dulles' cancer was discovered too late for actual cure, but in the last few years the proportion of cases that have been cured has risen from 1 in 4 to 1 in 3. Usually the reason has been earlier diagnosis. The seven danger signals warning of possible cancer are:

1. Unusual bleeding or discharge.
2. A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere.
3. A sore that does not heal
4. Hoarseness or cough.
5. Change in bowel or bladder habits.
6. Indigestion or difficulty in swallowing
7. Changes in warts or moles

According to the American Cancer Society, if one of these symptoms lasts longer than two weeks, you should go to a doctor for a check-up in case it means cancer

All too often many of us forget to show our mothers slight acknowledgments and expressions of affection that would mean so much to them. This Sunday is Mother's Day. Children from six to 60 might do well to remember their mother in some way, be it an extra long letter, a gift or some other acknowledgment.

Dear Diary...

County Agent Notes ....

By HOWARD SIMMONS

SEED HARVESTING

Crimson Clover. Use either of two methods. One is to cut down the clover and then pick it back up. The other is to harvest direct.

If you plan to use the first method of cutting down and picking back up, mow the clover when 75 to 80 per cent of the seed heads are dark brown. Let it lie in the swath without raking. When the heads have dried enough for the seed to be rubbed out between your hands, it is ready to be picked up and combined.

Pick up the clover with the pick-up attachment on the combine header going in the same direction as you ran the mowing machine in cutting down the clover. Do not start combining until dew has dried and stop before moisture begins to collect in late afternoon. Make sure of your combine settings.

If you are going to harvest crimson clover seed direct, wait until the seed can be rubbed out between your hands. Start in late morning and stop in late afternoon. Combine settings are vital to successful seed harvest.

White Clover Seed: Harvest when 75 to 80 per cent of the seed heads dark brown. Cut down and let it lie in swath until the seed can easily be rubbed out between your palms. Never rake white clover seed. Pick it up from the swath with the pick-up attachment. Run combine header in same direction as mower was run in cutting the clover. This will let you pick up the clover head first.

Rye grass and fescue should be harvested direct when the seed are mature enough to be rubbed out of the heads.

CONTROL POULTRY PESTS

Poultry lice feed on haris, skin and feathers of the birds. These and other pests like mites and "stick-tight fleas" weaken the birds, cause them to drop off in eff production and lower meat gain.

Roost paints made with lindane, malathion or nicotine sulphate will control poultry lice; or use sprays and dusts directly on the birds made from: spray, malathion; duess, rotenone. You can use the pinch method of applying sodium fluoride.

Litter sprays for controlling lice can be made from malathion or lindance. For litter dust use 5 per cent malathion.

The "stick tight" fleas can be controlled with malathion.

Control mites by spraying or dusting walls, roosts and litter. For sprays use lindane or malathion; for dusts use 5 per cent malathion or sulphur dust.

Caution. Do not apply lindane directly to birds. Avoid getting any insecticide in feed or water.

For specific details on controlling these pests call or come by the office. The phone number is Homestead 7-4631.

SAFETY

Spring brings electrical storms. During severe thunderstorms don't go outside unless it is absolutely necessary. If you get caught out of doors, keep away from isolated trees, wire fences, hill tops or wide open ranges. If you are out of doors in a storm, and can get in a car, do it. It is drier and safer.

Letters To the Editor

Editor, Sea Coast Echo

I have recently returned from a seven weeks stay in the Hancock County Hospital. I want to thank Mr. Edgar Little the nurses and all of the hospital personnel for the service and treatment I received while there. It was wonderful.

If I should ever need them again, I shall be glad to go back.

TWO-PHASE FIGHT AGAINST STRAG DOGS NECESSARY-OR ELSE

Stray Dogs are posing an increasingly serious municipal and area problem that merits study and action by responsible public officials.

This is particularly true in the Bayou Casotte section.

Twenty persons were treated at the county health office last week for dog bites, Dr. George V. Smith, health officer, says. Most were children and most were from Bayou Casotte.

There were probably additional cases, too, treated by family physicians.

Twenty or more persons bitten by dogs in a given area in one week is, to understate it, excessive.

Many of the wounds were made by unidentified dogs which means victims must undergo the inconvenience and discomfort of antirabies treatment because it cannot be determined whether or not the dog that did the biting had been vaccinated.

Many of the animals in Casotte apparently abandoned by owners who have moved to other areas, have turned half wild and are traveling in packs.

As a result, chicken flocks are under constant attack as hungry dogs must and will eat. And owners trying to protect them will continue to be bitten.

Danger of the situation will mount in the hot summer months ahead when the incidence of rabies in the unvaccinated animals will be at its heighth.

It seems to us action should come along two lines:

1) An intensive rabies vaccination program should be staged to have family owned pets innoculated.

2) This should be followed by an equally intensive drive to round up all stray or unvaccinated animals in the area and dispose of them unless claimed by owners who would bear the expense of proper vaccination.

This course of action could prevent tragadies this summer.

O Lord, support us all the day long of this troubelous life, until the shades lengthen, and the busy world is hushed, the fever of life is over, and our work done. Then, Lord, in Thy mercy, grant us safe lodging, a holy rest, and peace at the last, through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Niven's Oscar Movie Due Here

David Niven, who has been steadily refusing to take himself or Hollywood seriously through the years, claims a change of attitude with Hecht, Hill and Lancaster's Separate Tables picturization of Terence Rattigan's Broadway and London stage smash, Sunday and Monday at the A and G Theater through United Artists release.

"I wasn't my jaunty self on the set this trip and I blame it on the role I played, because the fellow's emotional plight touched me deeply" the usually carefree Niven declared with a frown. "I portray a seedy-type British major, really a pathetic chap, lonely and insecure, living a lie about himself because of being unable to face himself. I somehow couldn't let the major down between scenes by resorting to the usual Niven laughs and gags with the gang. I wanted to make him a real, touching characterization and it seemed the more I thought about the Major the more I withdrew within myself and away from my co-workers. Now this is most unusual Niven."

Niven's performance in the movie won him an Oscar for the best male actor.

Home Agent Notes . . .

BY GLORIA MAULDIN

LABEL WILL TELL US SOON

Is this material all cotton? Or is it part man-made fiber? If it is wool, it is all wool? How can we tell?

Right now we can't determine the fiber content of most fabrics. We look at it, we feel it, we ask the sales person, and sometimes, we look at the label. But usually we buy it or not, never knowing for sure.

Beginning in March 1960, we will know. The Textile Fiber Identification Act, which will then become effective, requires the manufacturer to tell you, the consumer, what kinds of fibers are present in most textile products.

Each fiber that makes up five per cent or more of the weight of a product must be named on the tag or label. And the label must tell what per cent of the total each fiber is. The fibers must be listed in decreasing order, the highest percentage being given first. For example, a blanket label may read - 90% cotton, 10% wool.

Fibers making up less than 5 per cent of total weight must be listed as "other fibers".

The Fiber Identification Act applies to wearing apparel, yard goods, draperies, floor coverings, furnishings, bedding and other household textile goods, reused stuffing in upholstered furniture, mattresses and cushions, and other wool products noo already covered by the Wool Products Labeling Act, which has been in force since 1939.

The act will not cover sewing thread, upholstery fabrics, outer coverings of mattresses and box springs, linings or interlinings used primarily for structural purposes, rug pads, trimmings, textiles in shoes, overshoes, and headwear or new upholstery stuffing.

DON'T FEED GARBAGE CAN

Is your garbage can a heavy eater? Hpw much does it cost to feed it for a year?

The average American feeds 225 pounds of food a year to the garbage can, according to recent studies. That's two-thirds of a pound a day.

For a family of five that would add up to 3 1/3 pounds a day or 1,125 pounds a year. At the low rate of 25 cents a pound, this means a family of five pays $281 for groceries they do not eat.

The four most common causes for food wasted in the home are:

1. Lack of good planning and buying, which can result in overbuying.
2. Poor preparation and serving of food.
3. Poor use of leftovers.
4. Improper preservation and storage.

Opening Regatta

Bill Watts Leads for Host Club

A Bay High School junior, Bill Watts, pocketed for the host Bay-Waveland Yacht Club three of the six first places in the opening regatta of the Gulf Yachting Association here last weekend.

Representing BWYC in the junior fish class race Saturday morning, Bill placed first over seven other skippers from the member clubs and that afternoon sailed Lil Toot, built by his father, in two penguin class contests, winning the first and finishing second in the second. There were seven other skippers in these races.

Lil Toot and Bill came through again Sunday in the third of the series and gave the local skipper the series title with 23 1/2 points. Second was Gene Peresich of Biloxi aboard Ou Lala with 22 1/2 points while Joyce Fountain of Biloxi finished third with 16 points aboard Bitsy. Peresich had nosed out Watts in the second penguin race, and was second in the other two.

Henry Chapman, co-chairman for the regatta with Norman Renshaw, said the weather was unusually good from Saturday morning through Sunday afternoon without a change in wind direction and practically none in wind force which made the competition very even.

Bay-Waveland's other winner was Chuck Breath who took the sun and sail fish class. Duncan Lamb was second in the only race sailed in this division.

Gulfport YC won the expert fish class series with 35 points while St. Andrew's Bay of Panama City, Fla., were second with 32 1/2 points. Tied for third were Fairhope and Pensacola with 32 points each.

In the first race Saturday, R. E. Pitts skippered his St. Andrew's team to a win over Jim Kippes group from Pensacola. Southern's Carlos DeArmas won the second race Sunday morning with Nathan Alfonso of Gulfport second and in the third race Idus Darby of St. Andrews finished first with the Alfonso squad from Gulfport second.

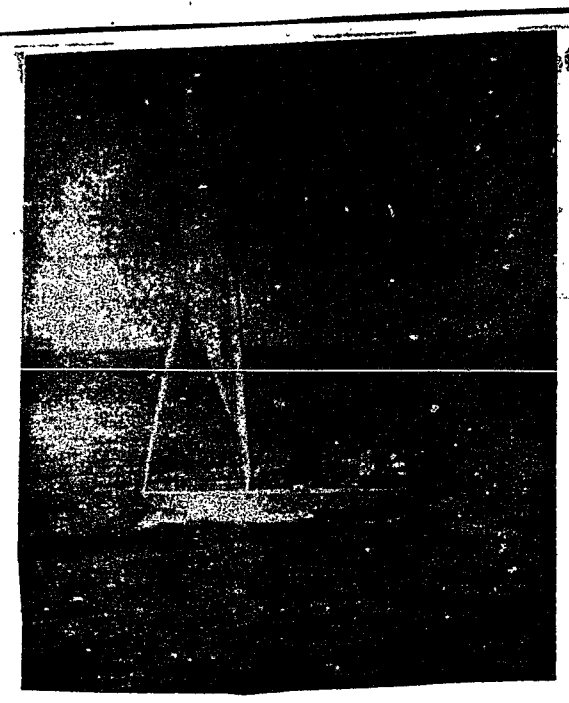

BWYC had 11 points going into the last race when skipper Harry Chapman scored seven but was fouled out. Jack Baltar finished fourth for the host club in the first race and John McDonald's crew fouled out in the second.

The schedule was delayed Saturday afternoon when the Buccaneer boat lost its rudder before the race started and the New Orleans YC boat turned over and a crewman injured his leg. That necessitated holding the second expert fish series Sunday morning.

Series winner in the lightning class was Ed Overton of Fairhope with 23 1/2 points. Tom Allen of Southern was second at 21 1/4 and Francis Favalora of New Orleans third at 18. Allen won the first race with Overton second while Overton was first in the second race with Allen second. Overton also claimed the third race with Facalora third.

HAPPY CREW--The sailors on this boat have just copped the fish class race in Saturday's portion of last weekend's Gulf Yachting Association regatta at Bay-Waveland Yacht Club. R. E. Pitts skippered this winning boat from St. Andrews Bay, Panama City, Fla.

WINNING TEAM--Sailing Boat No. 3 over the finish line second in the third race of the expert fish class at the opening regatta of the Gulf Yachting Association here Sunday are the Alfonso brothers of Gulfport who won the series title of their Gulfport Yacht Club. The trio, Nathan, Vincent and Carol, scored 35 points in the three races despite the fact that did not finish first in any. They also won the Monk Smith Memorial trophy.

John Bell, recognized as the first commodore of BWYC when it was reorganized in 1949, won the first and second races in the cutter class. Stanley Butt of Biloxi took all three races in the thistle class.

Jeanne Cavaroc of BWYC led in the first round of the regatta's final race, skipperettes, but finished third. Winner was Barbara Fiebelkorn of Ft. Walton with Sammy Reed of New Orleans second.

In the junior fish class which Watts won, David Andrew of Gulfport was second.

The regatta kept the entire Watts family busy. Bill's father, J. W. Watts, was on the race committee and his mother was chairman of the reception and registration committee. His brothers, Alfred and Dick, crewed in the races.

Other judges with Chapman and Watts were Herbert Schaeffer, Ed Heath, J. E. Erwin, Leo Seal Jr. and Dr. Wesley McFarland.

Stanislaus Nine Win 3 For Season

St. Stanislaus College baseball team wound up the season last week with two losses at Biloxi High and Notre Dame of Biloxi, bringing the defeat total to seven with only three wins.

Stars of an otherwise discouraging season were leading hitter Jack Mashburn with a .368 average and pitcher Herman Jacobi who pitched two of the winning games.

The team pulled two wins from Pass Christian High and one from Long Beach. Losses were two from Biloxi, two from Notre Dame of Biloxi, two from Gulfport and one from McGill of Mobile.

Brent Seward, with three runs in five hits, was the leading Stanislaus hitter in Friday's 8-7 loss to Notre Dame. Jack Mashburn managed two hits.

Losing pitcher Steve Cook allowed five hits in the 7-4 defeat on April 30, by Biloxi High School. Jack Mashburn's home run was a high spot for the Bay team.

Gun, Rodders Seek Hunting Season Shifts

Two changes in present hunting seasons will be sought by local representatives at a state meeting of Gun and Rod Club Tuesday at Jackson according to Jack Ladner, president of Hancock County Gun and Rod Club, which voted to seek the changes at a dinner April 30 in Pine Burr Restaurant, Waveland.

With Ladner at Jackson will be Bert Stciffel, Nelius Rhodes, Lucas Pucheu and Leonard Ladner. They will seek a later dove season, starting Oct. 15 or Nov. 1 instead of in September, and a later squirrel season, starting Nov. 1 instead of in October.

Ladner said the club will spend approximately $300 for game this year, with types to be decided after the Jackson meeting. He will report on the state session at an election meeting June 25.

About 20 turkeys and eight deer will be released in county hunting areas in the near future South District State Game Warden Switzer has told Ladner.

The state game and fish department has agreed to purchase 20,000 to 30,000 acres of land to be stocked with ducks, Ladner added. The land, located in Clermont Harbor marshland, is in back of the L and N railroad tracks and will be stocked with wild rice.

Sportsmen Form Club at Clermont

The recently organized Clermont Harbor Sportsmens Association is planning to sponsor a rodeo for the children during the summer and some shooting matches for fund raising.

Christian Home Week is being observed by First Baptist Church May 3-10 with Mother's Day climaxing the emphasis on Christian homes with special recognition of the children under nine years of age. Recognition of the children of the nursery department will be the central accent of the special service.

The entire Sunday School will meet from 9:45 until 10:30 a.m. at which time all departments will convene in the main auditorium. Mothers with babies in arms will occupy the choir section, and each baby will be introduced. The older children of the nursery department will be seated in chairs on the platform by the pulpit where each child will be recognized. The beginner and primary departments, ages 4-8, will sing.

An expansion program to do the most effective teaching of the young children is in progress. The teachers and leaders of these groups will be recognized for their important work.
